WONDER HORSES ARRIVE

■ BY GARETH ARNOLD

SWALE is being targeted in a concentrated effort to cut soaring teenage pregnancy rates in the district.

Worried agencies have this week revealed a series of measures which they say should halve the number of girls who accidentally fall pregnant.

The 10-year programme was unveiled at a special meeting on Monday night by the Kent Teenage Pregnancy Partnership.

Fifty per cent of teenage pregnancies occur in just 20 per cent of wards in the area, a trend related to social deprivation.

The partnership's Ruth Herron said: "Studies have demonstrated that, without support, children born to teenagers are more likely to experience disadvantage as they grow.

"They have increased incidences of illness, behaviour problems, higher accident rates, lower educational attainment and an increased likelihood of becoming a teenage parent themselves, and so the cycle continues."

Schools will be a first-point of call for many advisors taking part in the programme.

There will be advice on improving sex and relationship education, increasing access to confidential support, and providing education and training for young parents, backed up by a high-profile campaign.

Mrs Herron said: "Deprivation is linked with low aspiration, low self esteem, risk-taking behaviour, for example misusing drugs or alcohol, young offenders, and those with mental health issues.

"There are areas in Swale where the number of these problems are higher than others, as would be the case in all districts. This will be

Fatbuster bus takes to the road

■ BY GARETH ARNOLD

OVERWEIGHT children have been given a ticket to ride to a healthier lifestyle courtesy of a local firm.

Faversham company South East Coachworks have constructed a mobile gym in a bus to help youngsters learn about exercise and nutrition.

The bus, commissioned by children's health charity Shine, has been touring the north of England spreading the message about healthy living to schools and youth groups.

South East Coachworks' general manager Garry White said: "We recognise we should support projects like this, especially when it involves the well-being of children, and we are proud of our work being associated with the Shine project."

Shine is a national charity which aims to address childhood obesity and the issues surrounding it, such as bullying and depression.

The Leyland Titan bus, selected by the charity for conversion, contains exercise machines and displays about healthy eating, and is staffed by several volunteer charity workers.

South East Coachworks are no strangers to adapting vehicles. They have built everything from tour buses to travelling offices.

One of their most high profile tasks was for pop sensations the Spice Girls. Back at the peak of their fame, the company were responsible for decorating a bus in a huge Union Jack.

The bus was then featured in the Spice Girls' movie Spiceworld.

And they were not the only rock group to have used their services. In addition, they have worked for the likes of Capital Radio – turning a double-decker bus into a mobile studio to broadcast nationwide while also providing a hospitality suite upstairs.

One of the stranger buses the firm have built recently is The Potato Story, set to tour the south of England this month.

This bus teaches the nutritional value of the potato and, through demonstration, shows where the potato begins and how it is processed. It includes an inflatable slide similar to those used to evacuate jumbo jets, which the children use to get out.

South East Coachworks other high-profile conversions include the Home Office's long-running 'Talk to Frank' drugs campaign bus, which has been touring England since the end of 2006.

The third leg of its tour starts next month. Corporate clients include MTV, Superdrug and Argos.

yourswale NEWS IN BRIEF

CS gas case adjourned

A MAN who admitted having a CS gas canister in his car had his case adjourned by Sittingbourne magistrates.

Although he admits having the tear gas, Benjamin Holmes, 47, of Sea Approach, Warden Bay, denies drink driving and possessing an ASP baton – an extendable baton used by police forces – when stopped in Leysdown Road, Minster on August 17. The case was adjourned until October 10.

Flag set to fly over Swale House

THE Union flag may soon fly over Swale House in Sittingbourne if two councillors get their way at tonight's meeting.

Tory councillors Gareth Randall and Alan Willicombe will table a motion demanding the council uses its right to fly the flag over all council buildings in the borough.

In the motion, the councillors suggest Swale council should "demonstrate reverence for British values and identity" and "therefore resolve to fly the Union flag on all council buildings at all times".

Benefit couple fined

A MARRIED couple raked in more than £16,000 during a four-year benefit scam.

Thomas Hilden, 64, and his wife Jane, 60, of Sumpter Way, Faversham, illegally claimed £13,243 in housing benefit and £3,021 in council tax benefit from July 2002 to April 2006, despite having savings.

The pair admitted the offences to Sittingbourne magistrates on August 13 and were sentenced on Friday.

Magistrates fined them £250 each and awarded a contribution of £100 to the council's costs.

Homeless pet debate tonight

STRAY dogs, soon to be the responsibility of Swale House, are to be discussed at full council this evening.

Cllrs Chris Boden and Lesley Ingham have tabled a motion laying down guidelines for the council's treatment of strays.

They include giving RSPCA inspectors free access to kennels used by the council, neutering and micro-chipping dogs prior to re-homing, and carrying out checks on prospective owners.

'Viagra' doc faces being struck off

GP felt sorry for impotent patients

■ BY IAN READ

A HIGHLY-respected GP falsified prescriptions to get a Viagra-like drug for his sex-starved patients, a court was told.

When police raided Dr Valiyakalayilkesavan Ramu's home they found packets of Cialis – a Viagra clone – in his wardrobe.

Dr Ramu, 68, ran a practice at Halfway, Sheerness, for 30 years without blemish. Now he faces being struck off because he felt sorry for patients with impotency problems.

Sittingbourne Magistrates were told last week the GP was caught after he used a pensioner patient's name to get hold of the packets of tablets worth £37 each.

He admitted theft and falsifying prescriptions to get the drugs. He has already been suspended by the General Medical Council.

Mary Jacobson, prosecuting for the Department of Health, told the court Dr Ramu began falsifying documents in October last year.

During interviews he insisted he hadn't made any money from the scam and used the elderly man's name on forms so he wouldn't have to pay charges as pensioners are exempt from them.

The scam unravelled when he ordered 12 tablets from Sheppey Hospital pharmacy and didn't send back the right documents.

The court was told the doctor ordered his senior receptionist to sign the back of the form. All the while the pensioner was unaware the doctor was using his name to get the tablets.

Miss Jacobson said: "He told investigators he gave the tablets to people who couldn't afford Viagra."

Counsel for the doctor John Fitzgerald said his client, of Pond Farm Road, Borden, was well known in the community and well liked.

In recent years he raised £40,000 for medical charities by holding garden parties at his home.

He said: "He has behaved impeccably for 30 years. People he cared about were suffering. He is a doctor and sought to help them. I can't imagine a case where a doctor gives so much care yet he is branded a criminal."

Adjourning the case until October 1 for probation reports, bench chairman Peter Cheeseman said he read letters and a petition signed by more than 200 of his patients.

Mr Cheeseman said the reports would consider all options including prison.

where there are pockets of concentrated risk factors."

The Kent Teenage Pregnancy Partnership includes a wide variety of organisations such as education, health, the youth service, and social services.

Charlton Athletic FC is also involved, and are running four projects around the county aimed at encouraging young people to delay sex until they are ready to face up to the responsibilities it brings.

A new system entitling teenagers to free condoms has also been launched. Called the C Card scheme, it allows young people access to free contraceptives. Other areas around Kent have succeeded in reducing teenage pregnancies, and now Swale, is being targeted by the new campaign.

On Monday, the Kent Teenage Pregnancy Partnership made a presentation to the Swale Local Strategic Partnership, to ensure all local organisations are aware of the new campaign, and are ready to play their part.

Unemployed tag man 'ran amok'

JOBLESS Shane Baker, 18, didn't get any Xtra help at the Halifax... so he ran amok when staff wouldn't give him £300 from his account.

Baker, of The Fairway, Sittingbourne, went into his local branch in February without any identification but got upset when cashiers refused to hand over the cash.

David Aplin, prosecuting at Sittingbourne Magistrates Court, said Baker swore at staff and wrenched shelves from the wall.

Baker, who is already subject to a suspended sentence, admitted charges of criminal damage, using threatening words and behaviour and failing to appear at court at a previous hearing.

Police were called and Baker was later arrested at his home.

Magistrates' chairman Lewis Norris was told Baker was already wearing a tag and was subject to a curfew order.

The bench extended his curfew order by 45 days to 135 days, ordered him to pay £60 court costs and he was told to pay £20 to pay for replacement leaflet holders.

Wild horses freed to graze on local nature reserve

■ BY NICK AMES

A HERD of wild horses has been released to roam free on the South Swale local nature reserve.

In an innovative new partnership between the Kent Wildlife Trust and the Wildwood Trust, the horses were used to help breathe new life back into one of the county's most important nature reserves.

The horses arrived in Britain from Holland last year and are the closest living relatives of the extinct Tarpan wild forest horse that roamed the nation in prehistoric times.

A spokesman for the Herne Common-based Wildwood Trust said: "Our vision is to bring back our true 'wildwood', a unique way of restoring Britain's land to its natural state.

"This involves releasing large wild herbivores and developing conservation grazing systems to restore natural ecological processes to help Britain teem with wildlife again.

"Thanks to the horses, the site's internationally important biodiversity will be enhanced and protected."

The horses aid the local habitat by grazing on the grass and reeds and preventing it from developing into scrub and wetlands turning into woodland.

It is not the first time the two trusts have pioneered the re-introduction of these animals.

In 2002, their imported the first ever of their breed into southern England where they have helped restore a number of nature reserves, including Stodmarsh, near Canterbury, and Ham Fen in Sandwich.

The South Swale nature reserve covers 850 acres and is home to thousands of wildfowl and waders, including skylarks, reed warblers, breeding redshanks and occasionally bearded tits and marsh harriers.

Summer school focuses on problem drinking

EXPERTS in treating alcohol abuse will convene at the University of Kent this week for a national summer school looking at problem drinking.

The school has been organised by the Addictive Behaviours Group at the university, and Mount Zeehan Community Alcohol Services.

Rose Kent, one of the organisers, said: "It is increasingly obvious that alcohol is the UK's biggest drug problem, yet there has been a loss of focus on treatment provision."

Site needs '£10 million' to remain afloat Harbour's aim to keep working

BY GARETH ARNOLD

MAINTAINING Whitstable Harbour will cost £10 million over the next 25 years according to the chairman of the management board who says development is vital to safeguard its future.

The cost of preserving the quays – made from steel piling and wood which need constant maintenance – will run to millions over the next two decades, and Whitstable Harbour Board say new business is key to safeguarding the iconic site for future generations.

Three hugely controversial proposals have been put out for public consultation with local residents up in arms.

Chairman of the Harbour Board, the council body responsible for managing the quays, Cllr Michael Dixey said: "The harbour is to Whitstable what the cathedral is to Canterbury, and we care about its future as much as anybody. We're making a profit, but it's not enough money to maintain the harbour long term."

Cllr Dixey said traditional maritime uses such as fishing could be subsidised by other businesses, providing enough money to keep the harbour open as a working port.

He said: "We all want to maintain the traditional uses of the harbour."

"That's something we are all agreed on. The debate is how best to do that."

"We need Brett's Aggregates company, for example, which many people find noisy and irritating. They generate damn near half the income for the harbour."

Cllr Dixey said fishing does not raise much money for the harbour itself, but remains vital to the local economy; for every fisherman, there are a further five people employed in processing.

A council spokesman said: "The city council

CHANGING: A big tourist attraction and adored by the locals, a battle is raging over the harbour's future.

and Whitstable Harbour Board are not complacent and in order to maintain the commitment to maintaining a working harbour, we recognise that a considerable amount of money will have to be spent on repairing the quays over the next five to 10 years.

"Additional sources of income may need to be found in order to meet this commitment unless the level of surplus seen last year can be maintained and increased in the future."

'We'll wait until plan is right'

TOWNSPEOPLE have made their feelings clear concerning the three proposals submitted by Allied Land plc, Olympian Homes and Shepherd Neame.

A 9,000 signature petition was recently handed to deputy council leader, Cllr Jeannie Law, who has said she supports the campaign, and does not believe any of the proposals "fit in with our heritage town".

Harbour Watch spokesman Marnie Summerfield Smith said: "It was heartening to hear the deputy leader say, 'We said we'd consult. We have done and you've said no'."

"She gave us her assurance that the engine shed would not turn into a supermarket, and said she didn't want a pub either, so that's two ideas down, one to go, before discussions can really begin. Cllr Law didn't seem troubled that the rejection would cause a delay in any development that might take place in the future. She told us: 'If it means we have to wait to get it right, then as far as I am concerned I am happy with that.'"

The public consultation received one of the largest responses ever seen by Canterbury council, which is currently considering the results prior to the meeting of Whitstable Harbour Board on November 14.

'Clean' Bay blooms as judges give top marks

EXEMPLARY floral displays, cleanliness and community spirit have secured Herne Bay a silver gilt award in the annual South and South East in Bloom competition.

The prize – an improvement on last year's silver – will see the town entered for the national stage of the competition.

Judges described the town as "very clean in all areas".

Executive member for the environment, Cllr Jenny Samper, said: "Herne Bay is a lovely town – everybody knows that already – and to have that recognised in such a prestigious competition is fantastic."

The competition is the regional version of the Royal Horticultural Society's Britain in Bloom competition which aims to encourage communities to make lasting improvements for the benefits of local people, boosting civic pride and retaining a local identity.

Core elements inspected by judges include cleanliness and tackling issues of litter, graffiti, vandalism and anti-social behaviour.

Herne Infants School received particular praise for their "enthusiasm for the natural areas and the care and originality of planted features".

The judges also noted that Herne and Broomfield Pond, "demonstrates all that can be achieved by volunteers and agencies working together".

Cllr Samper said: "This is wonderful news for Herne Bay and I want to thank everybody who has been involved in helping us win our category. Community involvement has really increased this year, which I think has made all the difference, and I am so pleased that projects such as the Herne and Broomfield Pond received special praise."

In addition, the seafront displays and maintenance were described as "exemplary" and there was recognition of the attention given to the competition in the Information Centre in the bandstand.

The Herne Bay entry was a joint effort between the city council, and a committee of town residents and horticulturalists, sponsored by Serco and Dutton Forshaw.

Representatives from the town received the prize at an awards ceremony in Crawley last week.

Details of the next stage of the competition – at the national level – have not yet been confirmed. Nationally, hundreds of communities from across Britain look to win the overall crown.

How new housing developments are transforming Faversham

DAWN OF NEW DORM

TRADITIONAL building methods overcame challenging logistical problems during the construction of a new £2m dormitory at King's School.

Cardy Construction, the firm responsible for the new build at St Augustine's Abbey heritage site (project manager Steve Cullen pictured), erected the 45 metre, three storey dormitory without using a crane, as the site access – through an ancient stone archway – was severely limited.

Estimating surveyor Sean Hibbert said: "Because of the access issues we had to bring everything through separately and construct it on site."

System aims to ease web fears

JUNIOR King's School has snapped up a high-tech IT security system to protect pupils from dangers lurking online.

It has installed a filtering tool to ensure children can safely surf the web – blocking access to explicit images or potentially dangerous chat rooms.

It comes amid growing concerns over the safety of the internet as children look to sign up to the latest social networking crazes.

Nigel Prebble, network manager at the school in Milner Court, Sturry, said: "As a co-educational school with nearly 400 pupils we face sensitivities when limiting internet access to safe, secure websites.

"As well as the ever changing legislation demands, we need to be able to reassure parents that their children cannot access inappropriate websites or unsafe chat rooms."

Terry Cave, executive for IT firm St Bernard, which installed the iPrism system, said: "This system is proving very popular with schools because it is a low maintenance web filtering solution which doesn't interfere with the school's network and also operates seamlessly in the background.

"It enables staff to monitor and control web access, making the internet a more safe and productive environment for all users of the school's network."

QUESTION & ANSWER

PAUL MILLMAN

Q & A

Kent Cricket Club chief executive Paul Millman talks to Chris Britcher about his own views on Canterbury and why history is so ingrained in cricket that the club couldn't be based anywhere else in the county.

Q When did you first visit Canterbury and what were your first impressions?

A My first visit was in 1999 when I applied for the job at Kent. I didn't get to see much of the city as I simply drove to the cricket ground. It's probably as I've got on with the job that I've really got to know it. I think it is a fantastic city with its general ambience and all it has to offer. It has a massive amount of youthful zest being a university town, so it's got a pretty good mix.

Q Could you ever imagine the club calling another Kent town or city 'home'?

A I couldn't countenance Kent cricket being anywhere else; the history is so strong.

You can always think that if you were starting again you'd start in a city with more people in it to give you more commercial opportunities, but it's not just about commerce or marketing – history plays a huge part and if you can marry that with a solid future it's the ideal equation.

Q What are the key positives Kent CC bring to the city of Canterbury and its people in your opinion?

A Canterbury is on the map for various different reasons; its history, university, cathedral and all we are doing is adding to that. Millions come to Canterbury every year for different reasons; and some of those are for the cricket. The club is part of Canterbury's culture.

Q The ambitious new plans will transform the club – but what will they bring to the local community?

A We want a premier league cricket club playing in great facilities. They will be great for visitors to the ground, but they will have leisure aspects to them that will be great for the community too.

Hopefully we can just add value and provide another dimension to help Canterbury achieve its goal to become more prominent on the international map.

Q Since your time working in Canterbury, has your perception of the city changed and if so in what way?

A A great deal to be honest. Clearly there have been retail developments and massive housing – all of which seem to add massively to the feel of the city. We are playing our part; the university has a development programme and there is a lot happening to move the city on – but all in keeping with it and its history.

Every city is in a competitive situation to keep its name on the map and Canterbury is no different.

Q If there was one thing you could change about the city what would it be and why?

A Transport links are something which really must be key. If we have international or domestic visitors, better road and rail links are vital. I'd always want to see the best possible service to the city. People do come from far and wide to watch cricket and transport is so important.

Q If you had to spend an hour anywhere in Canterbury, where would it be and why?

A I like going shopping to be honest. In the winter especially, when there's no cricket on, I enjoy going round the city centre and the stores. I particularly like the atmosphere in the build up to Christmas.

Q What are the key issues you feel the people of Canterbury are facing going into the next five years?

A I'm a great believer in getting people active in sport. We want to play our part in providing good places for people to go to get active and be fit. I'm not sure I see enough people in Canterbury taking an interest in being active.

Q Where do you live now and could you ever be tempted to move to Canterbury?

A Although I live in Tunbridge Wells, I have a flat right opposite the ground which I've had for the last three-and-a-half-years, so I spend an awful lot of time here. When we have long late summer evenings I'll stay here. It's a regular stop-over for me during the summer, less so in the winter.

Fight to save historic street

A CAMPAIGN to save one of Britain's most historic streets begins today.

Minor Canon Row in Rochester attracts thousands of tourists every year after being used in some of author Charles Dickens' greatest works.

Owners the Diocese of Rochester is being forced to sell the street as it cannot afford to maintain it.

Its seven houses have Grade I listed status, but this only protects the buildings and does not safeguard the street itself.

Dr Edwina Bell, director of operations for Rochester Cathedral, said: "We would have far preferred to sell off the leasehold to retain a large measure of control over the place as a whole. "However, this is no longer possible following changes in law, so we have had to sell each property independently."

So in order to preserve the Victorian street, the church – along with its legal advisors – want to bring in a Rent Charge Scheme, which sets out in stone "planning dos and don'ts".

If successful the bid will ensure the character of the street is preserved forever – as once in place it transfers automatically from owner to owner and can never be thrown out.

Top clergy are now set to spend hundreds of man-hours sifting through applicants to buy one of the properties which cost up to half a million pounds each.

The first tenders were examined this week – but a decision is not expected until around Christmas.

Medway council's Labour planning spokesman Nicholas Bowler is backing the campaign.

He said: "I understand improvements need to be made to the interiors and you should never let buildings fall into disrepair.

"But I fully support any move to ensure our heritage in Medway remains intact."

Ted Baker, a member of the local civic society and the Dickens' appreciation group The Pickwick Club, is also supporting the campaign.

He said: "The people coming in need to treat the area properly. What we want is something for the city to be very proud of indeed."

TIME'S UP: Canon Row in Rochester has fallen foul of new planning laws which allow development

GPS aid to help parents keep an eye on the kids

A PIONEERING child tracking system has been launched for the start of the new school year by a Maidstone firm.

A GPS-based device lets parents know where their children are to an accuracy of 15ft. The BlueRanger, costing £19.95 per month, uses GPS and mobile phone networks.

A spokesman for Blue Tree Services said: "It was developed in response to the needs of parents, who want to allow their kids the freedoms they had in childhood but also want reassurance their children are safe."

Council staff allowed to network via Facebook

MEDWAY council has gone against the national trend banning staff from accessing social networking internet sites at work.

Medway NHS Trust this week joined a number of high-profile organisations including Kent County Council in restricting workers from logging on to Facebook and MySpace during office hours.

But Medway council bosses have decided they do not need to ban their staff, but have stressed they should only check personal messages during breaks or after work.

Post offices set to be hit by massive cuts

MAIDSTONE and its surrounding villages look set to bear the brunt of swingeing cuts in post offices as the Government axes services.

With a total of 32 small branches in and around the county town, post masters fear for their futures with an announcement expected in November.

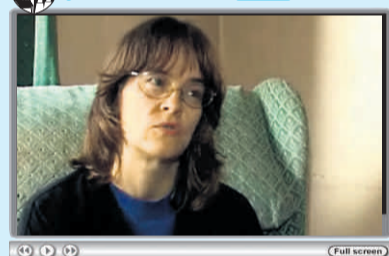

This week Maidstone council condemned the plans as "totally unacceptable" – even before a proposed consultation takes place.

Maidstone begins the six-week procedure, scheduled to start on September 17.

Daughter of superbug victim talks about her health campaign

Plea for NHS to clean up its act

THE daughter of a World War Two veteran killed by a hospital superbug today launched a campaign for better treatment of patients by the NHS.

Former Sergeant Joseph Nixon, 87, survived the Dunkirk evacuation, but was defeated by the dirty conditions at Maidstone Hospital.

He caught clostridium difficile after a routine operation.

To honour his memory his daughter Jackie, 46, is launching a nationwide campaign to stop any other patients suffering like him.

The Humane Campaign calls for a number of urgent changes to stop vulnerable people wasting away and contracting killer bugs like MRSA and C diff. These are:

- Better cleaning of hospital wards and changing dirty bed linen more regularly to stop patients' wounds getting infected.
- Stimulating the elderly with access to radio and TV so they do not give up and succumb to superbugs.
- Providing better nutrition in hospital food.
- Allowing families greater access to their relatives to keep them happy, help feed them and clean them.

Mrs Nixon said: "I have to stop people suffering like my father did – I owe it to his memory."

The place for drugs in Wellness

The wellness revolution is just getting started in the United Kingdom. Around the world, millions of families are moving toward wellness care, to get well and to stay well for life, without the use of drugs or surgery.

The question is, how healthy do you want to be?

Firstly, you need to know that there is no place for drugs in wellness.

The only place for drugs is in crisis care and life threatening situations, and only if all other options have been exhausted.

In the UK, the problem is the majority of people go through the crisis system (the sick care system) better known as the NHS, before receiving the many benefits of wellness care. Sometimes there are people who die before ever getting to know about wellness care. In the UK, people are given drugs as the first option, rather than the last. Wellness care should be the first option and not the last.

Medicine is best at dealing with life threatening accidents and traumas. The A&E department is an example of how incredible medicine can be in saving lives. However, medicine does not deal with wellness.

So who does teach the methods of wellness care and living drug-free for life? A Wellness Doctor of course. This kind of doctor teaches the importance of an optimal functioning spine and nervous system, gives advice on nutrition, exercise, body-mind connection and how your attitude affects your health.

If you have been prescribed medication and told that you need to take it for the rest of your life, you should get a second opinion. Your doctor, when he prescribes you drugs, should have a plan for having you come off them over time.

Would you ever give a healthy person medication? No of course not because it would probably make them sick! So why would anyone give a sick person medication in the hope they would get well?

Drugs are actually toxic for the body and only ever suppress a symptom. No drug corrects anything. So, in the event you have no other choice other than to take medication, make sure you have a plan for coming off it. Remember, medication only makes you 'feel good' and 'feel better'. This can give you a false picture of what is really going on.

Medication has its place, but ONLY when all other options have been exhausted. Medication does NOT have any place in wellness care.

If you want to get well and stay well, start questioning your doctor's recommendations. Then if you want you and your family to be the healthiest you can be, without medication, for life, go and see a Wellness Doctor.

During the month of September our family practice is providing free spine and posture health checks for families. The first 50 callers will also receive a copy of my most recent book to help understand the secrets to better health, naturally.

We look forward to helping you.

WIN! A space-age Memory Foam bed worth £2,400

from The County Bed Company

PLUS: Runner-up prizes of £10 gift vouchers compliments of yourcanterbury.co.uk

SEALY helps you get the temperature right in bed.

Too hot? Not hot enough? The new Sealy Mirrorform bed, with its revolutionary temperature-regulating technology, means an end to uncomfortable night sweats and shivers.

KOS Media has teamed up with The County Bed Company in Strood and Sealy to offer the chance to win a new Sealy Mirrorform bed worth up to £2,400.

Incorporating NASA-inspired Outlast Technology, developed to protect astronauts from temperature fluctuations, the special microcapsules in this amazing new bed absorb excess heat that can be released back to the body later if needed.

It even has the ability to adjust to the individual body temperature of two users.

This means that sleeping on a Sealy Mirrorform bed ensures a constant micro-climate that regulates the in-bed temperature to ensure the perfect night's sleep, all year round.

There are four models in the range to suit all size and comfort requirements, all featuring a luxurious soft-touch velour cover with a zonal quilt design and an advanced pressure-relieving, multi-layer Memory Foam layer that enhances support for perfect spinal alignment.

The Outlast Technology reduces temperature swings and influences the comfort zone efficiently, providing you with a perfect temperature for sleeping.

The Outlast microcapsules that are built into Sealy's Mirrorform beds absorb excess heat to reduce the climate's temperature. But as the excess heat has been absorbed it can be released back to the body if needed.

The latest collection, which is unique to Sealy and the UK, has been significantly re-designed to offer a fabulous look, more choice and a new, technically advanced memory core.

All models feature:

- A luxurious soft touch velour cover with a zonal quilt design
- Continuous air-mesh surround providing perfect ventilation
- An advanced multi-layer memory supply system
- Optimum comfort and ventilation
- Pressure relieving memory layer to enhance support for perfect spinal alignment.

To enter this great competition, simply answer the question:

Q) What is the name of the new revolutionary temperature regulating Sealy bed?

Send your entry on a postcard with your email address (if applicable), name, address, and daytime telephone number to: The County Bed Comp, KOS Media, Apple Barn, Hythe Road, Smeeth, Ashford, Kent, TN25 6SR.

You can also text your answer to 81800, by sending BED, followed by a space, the answer, a space and your name and address.

Messages cost 25p plus standard network charges. The service is provided by g8wave London N7. Closing Date is October 15, 2007.

No Planning Required!

Few people realise that they can have up to a 30 square meter log cabin in their back garden with no planning permission, in most circumstances. With this in mind, you have the choice of Living Out's entire standard range of 74 buildings.

Whilst log cabins are available on the internet, you have the disadvantage of not getting the chance to see what you are buying before it is too late. All too often these cabins are of inferior quality and do not appear quite the way they seem on the web site. With Living Out you can come and see exactly what you are getting for your money. The quality of our cabins is second to none, and you can choose from a variety of wall thicknesses from 28mm, 35mm, 44mm, 60mm, 70mm, 90mm and even double walled 44mm for maximum warmth.

Living Out has one of the largest displays of log cabins in the South East of England with a permanent display of over 30 garden buildings.

Because, at Living Out, we directly import our log cabins, we cut out the middle man which enables us to pass these savings on to our customers, making our prices extremely favourable.

When it comes to delivering, installation and base work, Living Out only use their own experienced team, who can provide the whole service from delivery to erection with absolutely no hassle to you whatsoever.

As previously mentioned, Living Out has developed a double wall system for ultimate warmth, which comprises of a 50mm insulated cavity sandwiched between two solid 44mm walls. This has proved to be a very popular option for all year round use.

We can also offer multi room cabins, which provide you with a dual purpose building that could include storage, changing facilities, a gym, an office or just a place for the whole family to chill out!

Living Out customers have used their buildings in a variety of ways to include home gyms, poolside changing rooms, music rooms, children's play rooms, teenagers' dens, but most popular without doubt is the home office. The quality of these buildings mean that you are not buying just a summer house, you are actually adding a valuable space that can be used all year round.

To give an example of what your money buys you, Living Out can supply a cabin that is 233 square feet internally, for just £13 a square foot. Now that is true value!

Each week we get a mystery writer to air their views on living in Swale...

A bit of thought today may prevent trouble tomorrow

YOUTH has gone wrong according to the newspapers, both locally and nationally, and it seems there are no easy answers when it comes to dealing with hardened delinquents.

As we all know, media coverage can give the impression there are gangs of pre-pubescent hooligans hiding around every street corner, downloading subversive ringtones as they wait for the next unwary iPod-toting simpleton to blunder into the wrong end of a BB gun.

But surely most of us, who aren't prescribed pills to stop us shouting, know this is not really the case? Most teenagers - young people, youths, or whatever label society has decided makes old people sound less old and patronising - are just as law-abiding as the rest of us.

That's most of the time anyway, or at least when we think people are looking.

Of course there are exceptions, as two recent assaults in Sittingbourne have proved, and obviously these are serious crimes which should be dealt with severely.

But the devil makes work for idle hands as the saying goes, and it's possible to see that for a few maladjusted individuals, extended periods of boredom could lead to a slippery slope of hanging around corner shops, breaking off wing mirrors, and eventually, mugging people in parks.

Having "nothing" to do isn't an excuse for nefarious acts of low level urban terrorism, but keeping kids occupied can be no bad thing. Who knows? They might even learn something other than the words to the latest Jay Z song or how to hot wire a scooter.

I sympathise with Phil Ham, of Outdoor Pursuits UK near Sittingbourne, who for £3 a day was offering kids the chance to go paint balling, quad biking and generally have some genuine affordable fun over the summer.

Unfortunately, Mr Ham's scheme was deemed unsafe by the council, whose own dance, theatre and magic workshops were cancelled, oddly, due to lack of interest.

Also cancelled were break-dancing lessons for the over 65s, and pre-natal bungee jumping classes. Actually, those last ones are made up.

Quad biking and paint balling are not 100 per cent safe. Nothing is 100 per cent safe, not even driving your car down the M20 at 80mph. But, with 20 years' experience behind him, Mr Ham is likely to know how to minimise the risks.

Steering kids towards "safe" past-times they have no interest in, is not going to help anyone. The law-abiding majority will find something else to do, but the minority of trouble-makers will do what they do best.

So go easy on the 'yoof' of today. They get a bad press and the powers-that-be all too often fail miserably in lining up suitable entertainment to stop them toppling into trouble.

Wrapping them in cotton wool is a nice theory but rarely does it work in the long run.

Providing activities young teenagers genuinely enjoy might just mean a quieter life for everybody.

TALK TIME

PETER SMITH

Scientist Peter Smith works for wildlife conservation charities. Here he talks about his important work around the world

Tell us a little about yourself

"My name is Peter Smith I am, was, a scientist specialising in how species are going extinct. My background is ecology, genetics and computer modelling. I hold five degrees from prestigious universities.

"Early in my career I realised scientific endeavour would not protect the huge amount of wildlife being destroyed by intensive agriculture and pollution and dedicated my career to practical nature conservation.

"I have worked as a senior manager in wildlife conservation charities in the UK and in Africa for the last 15 years.

"In 2002 I set up the Wildwood Trust and am its Chief Executive. Its aim is public education of the wildlife of Britain and to re-establish extinct species and promote natural habitats that will give them a place to live in the UK.

What are the big issues for the district of Canterbury right now?

"Canterbury has some of the greatest natural assets in the UK. The Blean woods, Stodmarsh NNR and the whole Stour system. We need to develop the tourist and economic potential of these natural assets, protecting and enhancing them."

What is the biggest challenge facing the world at present?

"Global warming and man's exponential use of our natural resources will cause a disaster unless humanity can take responsibility for their own actions."

yourswaleleisureDave's back with a bangFunnyman gets back behind the drum kit to tour with his new band, The Bewildered Gentlemen

A LARGE PORTION OF DAVE LEE
Saturday, September 15
The Gulbenkian Theatre
Canterbury

COMEDIAN Dave Lee is returning to his rhythmic roots this month as his new band The Bewildered Gentlemen relive the swinging 60s.

The larger-than-life comedian began his career behind a drum kit, and the nostalgic show, A Large Portion of Dave Lee, seeks to recreate the atmosphere of Lee's formative years.

His handpicked band of session musicians are set to groove their way through some psychedelic favourites, interspersed with routines from the famous funny man.

He said: "I started out on drums when I was 15, and was in and out of a few bands. Then Eric Morecambe said I had a good face for comedy, whatever that means, and it went on from there.

"When I first started, there was a group in every street in every town, and we all had a great time. I was out in Germany in the 60s and 70s like the Beatles and the Hollies were, and it was a special time. It'll be a chance to relive that."

The Bewildered Gentlemen include a steel guitar and two keyboards, a line-up designed to faithfully recreate the all-important 60s sound. Lee is sure the audience will share his sense of nostalgia and certain his carefully picked covers will go some way to recreating the feel-good vibe.

He said: "There are plenty of people as old as me about and still going strong, but quite a lot of youngsters like the music from that era too."

But Lee will not be spending the entire show with sticks in hand, and the popular stand-up will be doing just that in between sets.

He said: "It's rock with laughter. We'll play a few songs with some comedy in between."

The Gulbenkian date is just the beginning. Lee is taking The Bewildered Gentlemen on the road, and the Canterbury date is the start of a national tour of small theatres which will include Maidstone's Hazlitt Theatre and several other Kent dates.

Supporting the gentlemen are Motown trio Fancy 3, whom Lee describes as a sensational all-girl vocal group.

A Large Portion of Dave Lee is at The Gulbenkian Theatre, University of Kent, Canterbury, on Saturday, September 15. The show starts at 7.45pm and tickets, costing £14, can be booked by phoning the box office on 01227 769075.

ARTHUR SMITH

Tuesday, September 18
Marlowe Theatre

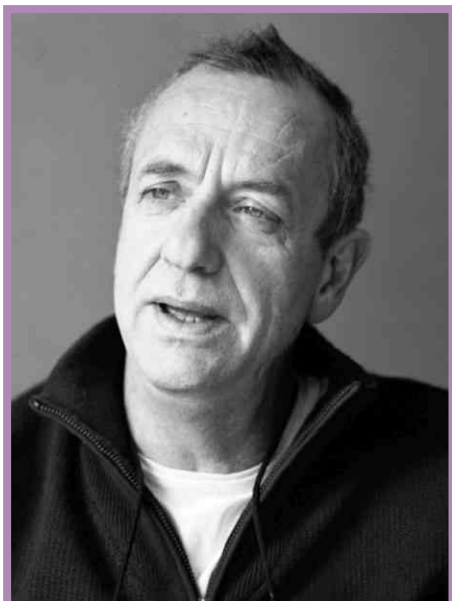

EDINBURGH Festival favourite Arthur Smith will be bringing his one-man show to the Marlowe Theatre next week.

Smith is best known for his caustic and occasionally bizarre observational comedy and will talk about his life and times before taking questions from the audience.

The South London-based comic is well known to radio and television audiences for his appearances on Radio 4's Excess Baggage and Loose Ends, as well as guest roles on Grumpy Old Men and cult comedy Red Dwarf.

Smith also wrote the critically-acclaimed stage play An Evening with Gary Lineker. An Audience With Arthur Smith is at the Marlowe at 7.30pm.

HOBSON'S CHOICE

Until Friday, September 15
Marlowe Theatre

CLASSIC English comedy Hobson's Choice comes to the Marlowe Theatre this week.

The show stars John Savident, best known as Coronation Street's eccentric Fred Elliott.

The play concerns the subjects of class and gender and is set in Salford in 1880.

A spokesman for the production said: "This production is of a story which remains as radical and relevant as ever.

"Obstinate Henry Horatio Hobson runs a successful bootmaker's shop and is a widower with a weakness for a drink.

"He is always trying to get the better of his three daughters and he wants a 'no-marriage' policy to avoid paying a dowry.

"But eldest daughter Maggie is having none of it and she starts to rebel – setting her sights on her father's chief bootmaker, shy Will Mossop."

Tickets are priced between £10-£19, with evening shows at 7.30pm and matinees on Thursday at 2.30pm.

For more details log-on to www.marlowetheatre.com.

KING'S WOOD SYMPHONY

Sunday, September 16, Kings Wood, Challock

The King's Wood Symphony is a new commission from Stour Valley Arts - creating a grand symphony in the forest itself.

The woodland near Challock, on the outskirts of Ashford, already hosts a giant musical instrument which re-broadcasts the sounds of wind and rain through the trees. It was created by former Pogues' star Jem Finer and claims to be unique.

A spokesman explained: "In this performance the wood is used as inspiration, performance space and instrument in this piece, which creates a dialogue between the ancient woodland space and the contemporary urban environment."

The event takes place at 3pm.

'I'm not in it for the fame'

■ BY EILEEN CONDON

HE'S the toast of Hollywood thanks to critically-acclaimed movies such as The Last King of Scotland and the Chronicles of Narnia – and he's starring in the new film Atonement alongside Keira Knightley.

But you won't find actor James McAvoy chasing the LA limelight.

The actor says he has a "pathological hatred" of celebrity culture and would run a mile rather than be photographed with the likes of Paris Hilton.

"We're so obsessed with celebrity and it's terrifying, I just don't care about who's wearing what or the nightclub you stumble out of," he said.

However, if anyone does have a right to hit the Hollywood party scene it's James. He's got a lot to celebrate. At just 28 he's risen rapidly from virtual unknown to one of the movie world's hottest talents.

After making his name in the popular Channel 4 comedy drama Shameless he progressed to the big screen in hit films such as Starter For Ten, Becoming Jane and his Bafta winning turn in The Last King Of Scotland.

Not surprisingly, the down-to-earth star is relishing every bit of his new-found status as Tinseltown's golden boy.

"It's really, really nice to be working," he smiles broadly. "That's the way I've always looked at it. It's always about the work."

"I'm very lucky that fantastic scripts have come up – you don't get them everyday. I've loved the fact I've been able to do such a range of different things."

"I always wanted to do an 80s comedy and

VIEW THIS PREVIEW

yourkenttv.co.uk

Starter For Ten came along and Last King Of Scotland was a different trip again. I've just appreciated the variety."

The Glasgow-born star insists he's not about to take any of it for granted though.

"You just say 'Thanks very much for this work' and hope that it continues, because it can all disappear as soon as it appears," he reasons. "You can't really count your chickens but you can be really grateful."

James, who now lives in North London, says his latest movie Atonement also helped him to rediscover his joy for acting.

Based on the acclaimed book by Ian McEwan, the film stars James as Robbie Turner, an idealistic young man whose world is turned upside down when a 13-year old childhood friend (Romola Garai) makes false accusations against him.

Set against the backdrop of World War Two,

GROUNDING: James McAvoy won't let fame affect him and filmed on location in Shropshire and Redcar, the movie also stars Vanessa Redgrave and looks like being another sure-fire hit for James.

McEwan has already heaped praise on the young star and James himself says making the film has been the highlight of his career so far.

"It was just deadly," he says gleefully. "It's definitely been the finest acting experience of my career. I loved the character of Robbie. He has empathy for everyone and forgiveness for everyone. Then something terrible happens to him and his world view changes from the most positive kind to a negative kind."

"He ends up fighting a bigger war than the one going on around him. He's fighting a war for his soul."

But though we'll be seeing a lot more of the talented star, you can guarantee it won't be on the party scene.

"I'm only doing my job. I'm absolutely not in it for the fame," he says. "Who I am isn't important. What I do is."

A trip to India's smallest state

■ BY GEORGINA RODGERS

HURLING along in our clapped-out 4x4 vehicle in the oppressive heat of the mid-morning sun, we swerve suddenly to avoid yet another wandering cow.

In Goa there are no road markings, few traffic lights and seemingly no right of way. The same rules, it seems, apply to the hordes of stray animals that appear only too happy to take a midday nap in the middle of the road.

Sweat clings to my forehead and I am trying hard to not think about the delicious rogan josh that I devoured the night before.

It seems like we have been travelling for days – in fact, checking my watch I realise it has only been two hours – but Goa's bumpy roads make even the shortest of journeys a bit of an ordeal.

As we emerge from an overgrown track, I realise the car journey was worth every minute. Before us stretch miles of golden sand as far as we can see. Palm trees reach up for the sky and the only noise we can hear is the sound of the Arabian Sea as it crashes rhythmically against the beach.

Most of our holiday was spent just lapping up the sun, swimming in the sea, eating delicious home-cooked food and aiming for complete relaxation. It wasn't hard – it was the perfect respite after leaving the damp UK behind.

The best time to visit India's smallest state is between the end of October and the end of

FAR FROM THE MADDING CROWD: Goa's beaches are among the finest in the world and well worth a visit

April, after which it becomes very humid and the monsoon rages. There is virtually no rain at all during the winter months and temperatures hit around 30°C every day.

Relaxing on beautiful beaches has always been Goa's main attraction – and given that the state boasts 100km of coast, there are plenty of deserted locations from Morjim and Aswem in the north to Vagator in the south.

For a busier sunbathing experience, head north to the bustling centres of Baga and Calangute, where you can bag yourself a bargain in one of many beachside shacks selling an array of jewellery, clothing and woodwork.

In fact, it is very hard to spend money here – you can satisfy your taste buds with a three-course meal for as little as £5, a large beer costs about 80p and you can even bag a made-to-measure silk shirt for £10. Getting around is also cheap and easy, with shorter taxi journeys costing as little as 50p.

For foodies everywhere, dining in Goa is an absolute delight combining a range of Indian, tandoori and seafood dishes.

The curries were full of distinctive flavours – spicy, but not too hot and never too heavy, like English versions.

If animals are your passion, then a trip to Goa isn't complete without an elephant ride. We spent two days in Shanti, a tiny hamlet within the Bhagwan Mahavir Wildlife Sanctuary, surrounded by natural beauty.

On the first day we were lucky enough to ride a very friendly elephant into a river, where we sat on her back as she sprayed us with cool water. Her reward? Bunches of tasty bananas bought from a local market, followed by a coconut scrub of her leathery skin as she relaxed in the cooling waters.

Away from the towns and villages, Goa has some stunning scenery and much of it is still untouched by mass tourism.

As we watched the sun rise up over the hills I knew I'd definitely be back.

History

Colonised by the Portuguese more than 400 years ago, Goa became absorbed in to in India 1961 – becoming a fully fledged state of the republic in 1987. However, it is still the most Westernised part of India with period churches a prominent feature of the landscape. Its mixture of sun, sea and sand saw the state become a hippy haven in the 1960s and it still retains an element of the counter culture. However, the state is now also a popular package holiday destination.

Culture

The people of Goa call themselves Goans and are proud of their homeland. Legends from Hindu mythology credit Lord Parshuram – an incarnation of the god Vishnu – with its creation. Staple food in the state is fish and rice, but some dishes retain a Portuguese influence. Mackerel, crab and lobster are particularly popular and beer is readily available. English is widely spoken, as is the local state language of Konkani and the national Hindi tongue.

YOUR WEEK'S HOROSCOPE

BY RUSSELL GRANT

AQUARIUS (Jan 21 - Feb 19)

A loving relationship stirs up all sorts of dramas this week. You've always been very certain about your values, but there's something about your other half that shatters confidence. A childish outburst only adds to your dismay. It's been a long time since you've felt this emotional. Maybe that's a good thing. Love forces you to operate on instinct.

TAURUS (Apr 21 - May 21)

The arrival of a child or lover in your life could result in quite a few upsets. Maybe you don't have sufficient funds or friends won't approve of your amour. Whatever the source of irritation, you need to take a deep breath and assess the situation rationally. It may be necessary to throw time honoured beliefs out the window and try something new.

LEO (July 24 - Aug 23)

A new source of income could be coming your way soon, but you're not sure if you really want this money. There seem to be lots of strings attached. You may be enlisted to collect debts or call in a loan. While it pains you to go to these lengths, it is important to get what you are owed. Don't let your generosity undermine your own financial security.

SCORPIO (Oct 24 - Nov 22)

You could be thrust into a group of unfamiliar people, which is really disorienting. These people hold beliefs that seem to be the opposite of yours. To add insult to injury, they seem to want to delve into your private life. Before you lash out against these folks, consider how they could ultimately benefit you. Learn to grin and bear their idiosyncrasies.

PISCES (Feb 20 - Mar 20)

Working with a friend or partner reveals some hitches in your relationship. You may not be able to contain your anger and it's possible that things will never be the same. Be prepared to face the future on your own. If you do manage to stay together, things need to change. For one thing, you've got to stop burying your feelings beneath a polite veneer.

GEMINI (May 22 - Jun 22)

A new living arrangement may be imposed on you quite suddenly. It's possible you'll have to find another place or move out of your home temporarily. Although the initial blow will be shocking, you'll gradually come to appreciate the change. Getting a little distance from an oppressive relative or roommate will free you to become more organised.

VIRGO (Aug 24 - Sep 23)

You're about to undergo a profound personal transformation, and it won't be easy. It's possible a partner or relative makes a remark about your appearance that really stings. If you've gained a lot of weight or have neglected your looks, you need to turn things around. Granted, you'll have to make some painful sacrifices.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov 23 - Dec 21)

You may be called to account for something you have done that's really irritated a relative or partner. Although you hate being forced to defend yourself that is just what you have to do. Be ready to admit your mistakes. This week marks an important turning point with regard to your reputation. Take responsibility for your actions.

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr 20)

A physical injury could be a blessing in disguise. Don't despair if you're forced to change your daily routine in order to heal. Slowing down may be more important than staying in tip-top condition. At times, you will be frustrated that you can't do as much as you'd like. This is also a good time to take up a spiritual practice or study.

CANCER (Jun 23 - Jul 23)

You may have to learn a subject by being thrown into an unfamiliar setting. Although an authoritarian expert will probably get on your nerves you would be wise to listen to their advice. There maybe something about this person that makes you angry. Whatever the your frustration, you need to overcome it for the sake of something bigger.

LIBRA (Sep 24 - Oct 23)

Breaking away from public life may be the only way to heal your broken heart. It's simply too painful to go to the places you visited with a former lover or friend. The positive thing to come out of this situation is a new appreciation for solitary pleasures. Now it's time to turn inward and discover your hidden depths.

CAPRICORN (Dec 22 - Jan 20)

Others may mock your awkwardness, but don't let that deter you from making the best of a difficult situation. You'll eventually win their admiration by holding your head high. A shocking bit of news could reach you, but try not to jump to conclusions. Keep your distance from an overly aggressive colleague who wants to impose their will on you.

Hop on the fast-food express with Nigella

■ BY ANDY WELCH

"THIS new book is for everyone really," purrs Nigella Lawson, slightly contradicting the introduction of Nigella Express, which claims the recipes are for 'working mums'.

"Of course, it can be used by working mums, but it's good for people who haven't had much experience of cooking," she continues. "Or people who feel recipes are too intimidating for them, as well as those who are good cooks, but don't have the time."

"The recipes are as simple as 1-2-3, which is why I've numbered the methods in the book. 1, cut this, 2, add a little something, and 3, stir it and take it out of the pot; it's done."

Flicking through Nigella's new tome, she would appear to be totally right. Her recipe for classic dessert Eton Mess couldn't be simpler – "Just buy the meringues!" she laughs – while the roast poussin and sweet potato dish, from the glossy picture in the book at least, looks like a delicious new take on an old classic and can be made in just over half an hour.

"That's just a fast version of my mother's roast chicken and roast potatoes, only poussins don't take as long to cook."

The recipe appeared in the first episode of the accompanying BBC Two series, being shown on Mondays, and embodies the message Nigella is trying to get across.

"I'm not taking dishes that should be lovingly cooked for four hours and creating a 30-minute way of doing it," she says. "I'm saying if you don't have enough time to cook a pork shoulder, cook a pork chop instead and I'll show a way to make that equally delicious in the time you have."

"There are such bad connotations of convenience food," she continues, without stopping for breath. "There's one school of thought that seems to think if you haven't spent hours slaving away, it's not worth it. That's certainly not the school of thought I adhere to."

"I don't believe cooking is about suffering. I'm simply trying to show that good food can be cooked quickly, like my quick chicken stew, or Curry-in-a-Hurry."

"The whole point of this book is proving there isn't just one way to make your life easier, sometimes you want something that you can knock together in 15 minutes after buying the ingredients on your lunch hour or on the way home from work.

"Other times you want to be allowed to sprawl in front of the TV or help your children with their homework, or whatever it is you have on at the weekend, and let the oven take the strain and do the cooking that way."

The new TV series shows the curvaceous cook demonstrate how to make selected concoctions from the book. It's Nigella's fourth to date and her first full series for the BBC. Her three-part festive special last Christmas marked her move over from Channel 4, who had broadcast two runs and a seasonal edition of Nigella Bites, as well as follow-up Forever Summer.

"I'm looking forward to it being on, but there's always a moment of apprehension and excitement. I just hope it does well," she says coyly, before revealing the more self-conscious side to her character, which seems slightly at odds to the talented, confident and, let's face it, beautiful lady we know so well from her TV appearances.

"I don't like looking at myself, so I never watch a finished series. I have shown it to my husband and children, who thought it was great, and my agent loved it. I've got my own little focus group, and the people who know me and love me don't think I've made a fool of myself."

"I'm excited about many of the recipes. I really want people to try them at home because they can make people's lives easier, so you'll be able to spot the slightly evangelical ring to my voice when I talk about them."

PETE MOLINARI: FOLK and blues star Pete Molinari has come a long way since being discovered by cult rocker Billy Childish.

The talented singer/songwriter has become a regular fixture on the intimate Medway circuit, played established acoustic clubs in London and even spent an 18-month stint in New York, performing in the same venues once graced by such folk and blues greats as Woody Guthrie and Bob Dylan.

His choice of instruments – guitar and harmonica – has drawn a lazy comparison with Dylan, but Molinari's soft, touching and seemingly effortless work stands out on its own, according to his many fans.

Molinari plays in London at the Health and Happiness at the Social night, in Little Portland Street, near Oxford Circus, on Tuesday, September 18.

Pete Molinari will feature on yourkenttv.co.uk – go there to upload your band's video.

YES! METRO: INSPIRED by the likes of Interpol, Minus The Bear and The Flaming Lips, 16-year-old Shaun Galvin from Canterbury is Yes! Metro.

Peddling his own brand of riffy geek rock and performing with just a laptop computer and voicebox for company, Yes! Metro shuns the emo scene adopted by so many of his peers, clearly making his priority music rather than fashion.

It's obvious that Yes! Metro looks like one to watch in the future and is fast building an online following on Myspace.

Say yes to Yes! Metro and catch Galvin playing at Canterbury's Orange Street Music Club on Saturday, October 6, as part of its Oxjam night.

Yes! Metro will feature on yourkenttv.co.uk – go there to upload your band's video.

ONE DAY ELLIOTT: MIXING versatility with their own unique sound has proved the key to success for One Day Elliott.

The four-piece rock band from Maidstone have just returned from their second triumphant US tour.

In the UK, One Day Elliott have appeared on the same bill as big acts such as The Fall, Hundred Reasons and Jesse James, and album sales now total more than 5,500. Having been brought to national attention with airplay on Radio One's Lock Up Show, the band certainly appear on their way up.

Vocalist and principal songwriter Paul Richards claims that having influences as diverse as Led Zeppelin and Green Day has helped the band find their own voice. "We all love rock but listen to different styles," he said.

One Day Elliott will feature on yourkenttv.co.uk – go there to upload your band's video.

Fresh air top tip for old salts in the selling game

SELLING your home? Planning to release the aroma of freshly brewed coffee and home baked bread through your home as the viewings begin? Then stop for a moment. That's SO last season. According to Alison Cork, presenter of ITV's Homes & Properties, what people want now is for a house to smell clean and fresh.

Neuro-psychologist David Lewis says: "Every house, like every person, has a totally unique signature smell. It's made up of old skin particles, hair, cooking odours, crumbs and dust.

"It's difficult for owners to detect the smell of your own home as your brain becomes used to the scent over time, however to visitors it can be the first thing they notice when they enter a property."

A normal reaction to a strong smell is to want to escape it – not ideal when you're keen to show off your strategically placed flowers.

Alison's advice is to give each room a really good airing. So fling open the windows and let the atmosphere of maritime heritage and the salty air of the Swale do the selling for you.

Student life is a chance to invest in property

IT'S not just children that are back to school at this time of year. Teenagers are making their way to university, leaving nests empty and parents rattling around in suddenly silent homes.

But now empty-nest syndrome has been replaced by second-nest syndrome with parents who invest in a property for their child at university able to finance their child's further education and enjoy a substantial return when they sell.

According to Bryant Homes – which has set up a website to help parents search its new developments near universities – key towns such as Manchester, Nottingham, Durham, Bristol and Warwick are expected to provide a 16.5 per cent return over a three-year period.

Second-nesters can also feel happy their child is in a safe house with a good landlord (you!) and not facing the perils of freezing conditions, damp and woodworm.

Advice is available on whether second nests should only be purchased if they come with a fully equipped utility room. Don't bother – studies show you'll end up doing your child's washing regardless.

RIVER VIEWS: After the summer holidays potential house buyers start to think about moving to a new home – but beware the added costs of HIPs on larger properties

Mild autumn will keep homes market on the up

■ BY MARNIE SUMMERFIELD

ONE of Swale's leading estate agents is hoping our poor summer will be followed by a mild autumn, because it has boosted house sales.

Despite the fact that the housing market is not usually busy in summer with the distractions of children and holidays, David Heraty, the director of HW Breeding says he has had the best August in 16 years.

And David is hoping for further good business, which could be boosted by mild weather.

"If it's very cold, people become aware that Christmas is on the way, their spending increases and the market slows," he says.

If you're only just recovering from the expense of summer, you won't be pleased to hear that, as far as the housing market goes – Christmas is fast approaching – it's only 14 weeks away.

Many people choose to move in time for Christmas as they like to get cosy in a new home for winter.

Market trends show that some people will put their house on the market at the end of October or beginning of November, hoping to be somewhere new by Christmas.

However, some estate agents advise getting the house-moving process moving now.

The Internet has redefined the way people hunting for a new home view potential property.

Property websites are becoming as popular as shopping, dating and celebrity gossip sites.

Psychologists believe it satisfies our dual desire to learn more about the way others live and daydream that we too, might live that way.

Haart's quarterly housing market report says that buyers overall are prepared to bide their time to avoid paying over the odds.

This means sellers are lowering their house price expectations to make homes more tempting.

House prices in the county have gone up 5.6 per cent in the past year to bring the cost of an average house in Kent to £226,402 according to the Land Registry.

In Ashford the average house costs £240,394, an increase of 8.1 per cent for the year.

Maidstone the average house is £236,282, up 9.6 per cent on this time last year, while the average house in Canterbury's costs £219,970, an increase of 9.2 per cent.

Dover's average is £189,614, up 11 per cent for the year, and in Shepway an average home will now set you back £201,566, up 10 per cent compared with a year ago and unlikely to drop below £200k again.

On the Isle of Thanet the average house costs £178,936, up 4.9 per cent, and in Swale £175,45, down 3.8 per cent compared with three months ago but still a 2.9 per cent rise for the year.

Across Medway the average house went up 9.4 per cent in 12 months to £171,422.

Car cramming drive for Demelza House

CHILDREN and parents rose to the challenge when SMC Mitsubishi in Sittingbourne asked them how many toys, books and unwanted CDs they could cram into a Mitsubishi Outlander 4x4 in aid of Demelza House Children's Hospice.

SMC Mitsubishi manager Richard Stockwell was overwhelmed by the response: "The Mitsubishi Outlander is a pretty spacious vehicle by anybody's standards, but we could have filled the car three times over with toys, such was the generosity of the local people."

"We are delighted that we have been able to help young people at Demelza in this way and hope the toys will bring them lots of pleasure."

Extended green scheme from Land Rover

BARRETT'S Land Rover has extended a pioneering scheme to offset CO₂ produced by the cars it sells.

The original plan offsets the first 45,000 miles on 2007-model cars, but Barretts of Canterbury and Ashford offers a voluntary extension for pre-2007 Land Rovers and any exceeding 45,000 miles.

Mark Nicholas, of Barretts, said: "Our existing scheme has shown us that drivers want to play an active role in the reduction of greenhouse emissions, and helping the drivers of older vehicles to do the same was the next logical step."

Deals boost new reg deals at SMC Ford

FORD dealer SMC is predicting a bumper September, helped by potential savings of almost £3,000 on some new '57 plate cars.

"Consumer offers we have put on the table for this September's new registration really seem to have caught the public's imagination," said Paul Elligate, regional sales manager for the group, which has Kent sites at Sittingbourne, Gravesend and Crayford.

"For example we are currently offering a massive saving of £2,877 off a brand new Focus Zetec Climate 5 door."

TORQUE ABOUT POWER: The firebreathing 237bhp SEAT Leon Cupra out performs the Golf GTI by a few tenths of a second on the sprint to the all-important 60mph

Beast from Barcelona

SEAT launched its latest Leon on TV by suggesting there was a beast on the loose.

With a coupé-style five-door hatchback body that conveyed the impression of a beast about to spring, this was not idle fancy.

But the Spanish arm of the VW Group has since added 'wilder' turbocharged versions; the 197bhp FR and, more recently, the fire-breathing 237bhp Cupra.

This allows the Leon line-up to outgun the VW Golf upon which it is based, with more aggressive style and a Cupra flagship that out-accelerates the Golf GTI by a few tenths of a second in the sprint to 60mph – believe me, this matters to some people.

In reality, it means nothing on our crowded and clogged-up roads, since you can't use such performance properly or safely anyway.

On the other hand, this is a cracking-looking car – note the concealed rear door handles to enhance the coupe styling – and has a rawness that compels you to like it.

At the same time, the Cupra is every bit as well mannered as the Golf GTI, possibly more exciting to drive and some £1,500 cheaper.

It is also more interesting than the Ford Focus ST and far more manageable and practical than the Vauxhall Astra VXR.

No wonder almost half of all Leon sales in the UK are this hot version and the only slightly cooler FR.

It is not as if you have to keep the beast on a leash when traffic is heavy, either, because it pootles along and rides well for a hot hatchback... I still have all my fillings. Give it a prod though and the beast growls from under the bonnet and out of the exhaust.

It will probably never have the prestige or low depreciation of the Golf – since the original 1970s GTI started the whole hot-hatchback thing.

And the interior tries to be clever and ends up looking a bit dull and plasticky, but I back it as a good 'alternative' hot hatch even if you risk bringing out the beast in you.

BUSINESS BRIEFS

Abbot gets training seal of approval

PHARMACEUTICAL giant Abbott has been named among the finalists of this year's National Training Awards.

The company, based at Queenborough, on the Isle of Sheppey, is one of just 13 organisations and individuals from the South East to have reached this year's final, organised by UK Skills, which runs the awards on behalf of the Department for Innovation, Universities and Skills.

The chair of the South East judging panel, Kathryn Cook, said: "They show how learning and development is essential to transforming a career or organisation."

The region's winners will be revealed at a ceremony in Sussex on October 11. The national winners will then be celebrated at a gala ceremony in London in December.

Bank staff run up a big total for hospice

MORE than 100 bank workers from NatWest branches across Kent took part in the third Demelza fun run.

They helped raise more than £5,000 for Demelza Hospice Care for Children by completing either a 5km or 10km run around the grounds of Leeds Castle, near Maidstone in Kent.

NatWest scooped the prize for Best Corporate Team, with Jo Brand from their Maidstone branch coming second in the 10km race on September 2.

FAST-TRACK TO SUCCESS: Thameside regeneration including the new Ebbsfleet International Station, will be discussed at a public meeting tonight

IT'S ONE of the biggest regeneration projects in Europe – and likely to provide business opportunities across the county.

And tonight a public meeting takes place with top officials discussing the latest update on the housing and employment explosion in the Kent Thameside area as part of the Thames Gateway project.

It is estimated around 30,000 new homes and 50,000 jobs will be created in and around the region – with the new Ebbsfleet International station at its heart – sparking a host of possibilities to boost business opportunities.

Speakers will include Paul Williams, deputy chief executive of the Kent Thameside Delivery Board (KTDB) – the body set up to develop the area between Dartford and Gravesend.

He will discuss the enhanced community

BY GARETH ARNOLD

and environment facilities planned for the site

A key concern of the KTDB is to develop 'economic and business competitiveness'.

The meeting takes place as part of Kent County Council's Dartford Local Board.

Chairman of the board, Bertie Bassam, said: "The Kent Thameside regeneration project will have a huge impact on the lives of local residents. This is a wonderful opportunity to find out more about what is planned for the area and the likely impact on us all."

"It is such good news to have Ebbsfleet International Station opening so close to us. It will be good to find out more about this and Fastrack links as well. There is no need to book for this meeting, please just come along."

Also speaking will be representatives of Fastrack, a transit network set-up to link the new developments in the area, and launched in spring last year.

David George, Fastrack project manager, will talk about the success of Fastrack after nearly 18 months of operation and give an update on the recently-opened route which serves The Bridge development at Dartford and surrounding areas.

He will also explain how Fastrack will provide connections to Ebbsfleet International Station and the new Eurostar services which start in November.

Doors for the meeting open at 6.30pm for a 7pm start at the Swanscombe and Greenhithe Town Council offices at The Grove, Swanscombe.

Gillingham chairman Paul Scally talks to our new online TV channel

Youngsters' 60-0 defeat

A WEAKENED Sittingbourne Rugby side had a heavy defeat against former coach Taff Gwilliam's Medway Rugby Club in a long standing friendly between the two clubs on Saturday.

Sittingbourne were unable to field any of their first team and a young side struggled against a stronger Medway side, losing by 60-0.

The best of Medway's tries was scored by Simon Rumsey who finished off an excellent team move.

Gwilliam said: "You have to give credit to Sittingbourne, they honoured the fixture despite being unable to field any of the first team. The result doesn't reflect how good the side are."

Sittingbourne will be in action in Kent League One on Saturday against Old Gravesendians with their first team players back to do battle. They will be hoping to replicate their form from last week's win against Sheppey.

Anthony Hogg took a free kick on the halfway line, but his effort was easily dealt with. On the counter attack, good work by Craig Carley put Craig Brown in one on one with Josh Willis in the Sittingbourne goal.

The goalkeeper appeared to bring Brown down, and after a moment's hesitation the referee gave the penalty – much to the dismay of fans nearby who felt there had been no contact.

Willis stayed on the pitch thanks to the presence of defenders on the line, but after Carley slotted the penalty away Sittingbourne lost their grip on the match.

In the second half they created little, prompting Lovell to throw centre back Paul Ainsworth up front for the final 15 minutes.

With extra bodies committed to attack the home side risked being exposed at the back. The visitors struck the killer blow with eight minutes to go, when Brown crossed for Carley to head his second of the game.

Lovell kept the team in the changing room for 20 minutes after the game, and he was unhappy with some of the performances.

He said: "Everybody has been at 100 per cent so far this season but three or four weren't on it today. I want more from them."

The game may have been the last chance for fans at Bourne Park to see striker Lee Browning, who is on the verge of a move to Dover.

Lovell said: "None of the boys want him to leave and he would be a major loss to the club. Looking at him today his body language wasn't with us."

Bike riders steering towards end-of-season high

LEARNING CURVE: Rider Jerran Hart

SITTINGBOURNE Crusaders riders Danny Warwick and Jerran Hart will be hoping to end the season on a high this weekend in the final events of the current campaign.

On Saturday Danny Warwick will be competing in the final of the Conference League Riders Championship at Rye House, Hertfordshire.

This is a meeting where the top 16 riders in the country at Conference League level meet in an individual event to crown this season's top rider.

Former Sittingbourne rider David Mason is a past winner of the event, and this year he will be competing against league number one and World Under 21 semi-finalist, Tai Woffinden and twice British Under 15s champ, Josh Auty.

Reflecting on his season and Saturday's event Warwick said: "This year has been up and down for me but my high point was achieving a maximum 18-point haul at Boston."

"I have never been in the Riders Championship event before, it's a prestigious meeting and I am hoping to do well."

Rising young rider Jerran Hart will be competing in the British Under-18 Championship at Wolverhampton on Monday, September 17.

This will be an outstanding achievement for the 16 year old as this is his first competitive season in speedway.

The reigning champ is Lewis Bridger who rides for Eastbourne and he started his career at the training track at Iwade. Jerran is in good form and has a chance of finishing in the top eight.

Hart said: "This season has been OK, I had a slow start but it picked up well during the year. It has been a big learning curve and I am really looking forward to the meeting in Wolverhampton."

DIRT TRACK: Crusaders' season nears end

New faces to kick start Lilywhites

FOOTBALL

BY TONY GRAY

Faversham Town 0 - 3 Lordswood

FAVERSHAM Town's horror start to the season continued as they crashed to a 3-0 defeat at home to Lordswood.

Paul Copley's side remain pointless four games into the season, conceding 17 goals while scoring just once.

The home side had a great chance after four minutes when Ricky Freeman was fouled in the area, but Ian Pulman's penalty was comfortably saved.

Copley said: "The penalty kick just about summed up our season, confidence is low and that was evident in the way that Pully took the spot kick."

In a scruffy first half, chances were at a premium, but Pulman almost made amends just before the break when his lob from the edge of the area beat the keeper but just went over.

The match changed on 53 minutes when Town's Neil Crust left the field with a knee injury.

The change appeared to galvanize the visitors and the deadlock was broken on the hour when Danny Malone headed past keeper Rob Lindley.

Lordswood began to dominate, and they doubled their lead on 69 minutes when David Abe finished coolly past Lindley.

Two minutes later they added a third when Matt McHugh scored a free-kick from 30 yards.

Copley now believes changes are needed if the Lilywhites are to kick start their season.

He said: "These lads have been given six games in which to prove themselves and it just hasn't happened for us."

"We've got a lad from Ramsgate, Liam Morris, coming in for a loan spell and I'm hopeful another couple of new faces will be arriving at Salters Lane in the very near future."

WORK OUT: Members of Gore Court Hockey Club got in some pre-season action

Gore Court blow off pre-season cobwebs

MEMBERS of Gore Court Hockey Club warmed up for the new campaign with their annual pre-season club day on Saturday.

More than 50 members gathered together at their home pitch at the Swale All-Weather Astro at Westlands School.

The aim of the event was to give all players an opportunity to work off the summer excesses and stake a claim for their place in the sides to compete in the various South and Kent leagues which start at the end of the month.

The group was divided up into six teams of eight, and with everyone playing in 15-minute games.

There were many fine individual performances, particularly from the emerging crop of juniors including Ryan and Lee Burke, Jason and Barrie Setterfield, Will Oates and Lizzie Jenkins.

First XI ladies' captain Haley Surridge provided the moments of real quality during the afternoon and also gave much needed advice and guidance to the club's younger players.

The preparation for the new season begins in earnest this weekend with the first pre-season friendly matches.

The men's firsts, seconds, fifths and sixths take on their equivalents at Maidstone Hockey Club.

The three women's sides face Gillingham Anchorians, while the junior sides will have to wait another week before their first action of the season.

Gore Court's training sessions take place every Wednesday at 7pm at the Westlands astro.

Any hockey players looking for competitive hockey next season are welcome to attend. Contact either Graham Jonas on 07792 390278, Nigel Eves on 07746 818915 or Val Crompton on 07768060082 for further details.
